him and blocks every way of escape but Jun Chen is cold as ice and instead of yelling for help he just starts laughing instead and before the soldier can ask why he is killed by Ling Chang who has watched the mess. "Kill, kill them all" Ling Chang yells in a blood rage while Jun Chen use the change to get on the platform, but as kills the executioner and unties the man about to get executed, the man just picks up the axe from the chopping block nearby. "I am here to save you father" Jun Chen tries to say as the man launches the first attack with the big as and the man just starts laughter which is mixed with the laughter from Gang Chen who can see the action from his throne. "Did you really think it would be that easy?" Gang Chen yells as two soldiers behind him brings forward a man who can only be Jiang Chen. Jun Chen wants to yell something back but the man attacks again and the axe lands right next to Jun Chen feet that he jumps to be sure that he is not hit. "Leave my father alone" Jun Chen yells as he lands safely on the ground again which makes Gang Chen laugh even more and reply "I would not worry about your old man, I will not kill him before you have been killed as like I said I want him to hear every death scream from you and your friends." Jun Chen blocks an attack from the man with the axe and attacks back but even that the man is small and the axe is back, he is still fast enough to move out of the attack. The man attacks once more and this time he manage to cut some of Jun Chen's clothes, making Jun Chen yell of annoyance and strike back instantly and this time the man is not fast enough to move and the sword penetrated the man's chest like butter and he fell to the ground with the axe still in hand. Jun Chen expected fear to appear in Gang Chen's voice but instead a calm voice continued yelling "Wow, you killed another of my men... I still have another million soldiers waiting for you so do you really think you have what it takes" The calmness bothered Jun Chen but new enemies did not give him much time to think or reply Gang Chen with other than the sounds of sword hitting each other with power. In the meantime had Hui Wen and Lei together with other from the resistance reached the centre of the market and they were now trying to break the enemy into two groups, so they could break the moral of the men in the small group so they had fewer men to focus on, but the amount of enemy soldiers made it a almost impossible task. Hui Wen tried to make an opening so more soldiers could help him and Lei with the division of soldier but every time it seem liked he got it open and their soldiers started to appear they was swiftly force back by a new wave of enemy soldiers and in despair he yelled "Ling Chang were are you" and tried to look after her but she was no were in sight. Sudddenly an opening appeared in from him and he prepared himself for fight but instead of an great enemy, Ling Chang was suddenly in front of him and he could see her eyes was as red as the morning sun. The sight made him almost shallow his tongue as fear grew inside him if she had gotten so much taste for blood now that she had turned evil. Her eyes looked at him like she was aiming for any weak spots in his armour and without a warning, she suddenly started running against him, making him not being able to think twice so he tried to point at her with his sword but it was already too late as in the next she was past him and a scream was heard. He turned slowly around and a now death soldier was covering the ground with his blood. "Sorry, master" Ling Chang said calmly like the killing of the now death man had been a fly and before Hui Wen could say thanks, she ran on and the blood on the sword was had not disappeared in the wind before another kill had happened. Hui Wen shocked his head, what I am going to do with her before he noticed that the opening was filled by the resistance now and he could continued his plan. He turned around when a cold feeling started to fills body and he fell to the ground while he tried to remove the object which had started the cold and to his fear it was a sword. He cut his fingers on the sword, making him try to look up and tried to scream for help but his mouth ran fast full of blood as the sword keep going through his body and soon he felt the handle reaching his back and forced him to the ground. He gave up on getting a sight of the sun a last time and feel to the ground exhausted when a pair of feet suddenly appeared in front of him and with the last energy he managed to get his head up before the energy was out once more but instead of falling back to the ground instantly a pair of hands grab his head and a known taunt voice said "Now I only need to kill two more, old fool" Hui Wen looked at the person and even with blurred sight he knew who his killer was but his mouth was too full of blood and instead of yelling for help he spit the blood right in the face and said ice cold "You will never win" and just as the words had left his mouth the hands disappeared and he hit the ground hard before the sword from his back was gone too and the pain disappeared before he closed a last time. The killer clean the sword and face before lowly said "They would not know what hit them" and just as fast the attack had happen, the killer had left the screen. Ling Chang could feel the rage in her body suddenly disappeared and soon the red glow from her eyes disappeared too. In one movement she was fighting and in the next she had closed her eyes as she started to screaming loud in a mix of pain and horror when suddenly a silence followed. Ling Chang opened her eyes to figure out why the silence and noticed that no one was moving like they all had turned to ice. She walked around between the men slowly and watched one bloody fight after another before she quickly moved and reached the fight Ling Chang was fighting. "Please wake up" she almost silence said as she worried that the voice would destroy him but nothing happened to him or any of the soldiers. She looked around and even Gang Chen on the farthest away she could see were frozen except for her and the mix of being alone and the horrors of what she had done, made tears starting to run down her checks. She was all out in tears, not paying attention to her surroundings at all when suddenly a cold hand touched her and she almost flew up with the sword pulled and ready to fight but quickly removed it when she noticed it was Jun Chen who had returned to life. "What happened?" Jun Chen asked as they hugged and warmed each other up. Ling Chang looked at him but had troubles finding the words but managed to say a single word "Sorry", making Jun Chen quickly hold her closer and reply "It is not your fault" and just as the words had left his mouth another know voice replied "You are right, I am the one, making this" a floating Hui Wen said which at first made Ling Chang want to scream but his calm voice made her keep quiet. "I just want to say that I am so proud of you two" Hui Wen continued and Jun Chen wanted to say something but Hui Wen stopped him "No talking, just yet. I am also happy that you have found each other both in training and in love and yes, I knew all the time so next time, don't try to hide it" Hui Wen body became more and more transparent for each word leaving his mouth. "You have my blessing and now go with peace" Hui Wen said and as the last word left his mouth he was gone and before Ling Chang and Jun Chen could do nothing, they were suddenly back at their places fighting like nothing had happened. Ling Chang Looked around to find Hui Wen and found him laying in the mud, bleeding from his back surrounded by four enemy soldiers and she knew what she had to do. She started to fight her way against the body and just as she reach the body, Jun Chen was there too. They killed the soldiers around his body like they was wheat on a field and they started to stop the bleedings as Lei appeared with some men and started yelling out commands. "Men, form a circle around us and keep the line to split up the enemy" He yelled and the nearby men quickly started to doing what they were told. Lei turned against Jun Chen and Ling Chang as he wanted to say something but Gang Chen broke in "One old foul death and buried, and four left, this is becoming the best day in my life" he said mocking and laughing making Jun Chen prompted yelled back "He is not death yet" which just made Gang Chen laugh even louder and more mocking. "Who said that I was talking about Hui Wen?" He said as he held a small break from laughing and pointed at Jiang Chen who appeared normal at first before blood appeared on his throat and when he tried to screaming his mouth filled with blood as he fell to the ground as a doll. Jun Chen could feel the sadness grow inside him but instead of giving Gang Chen the pleasure, he just yelled back “You will pay for every death, you will cost today” and Jun Chen was about to run off from Hui Wen and Ling Chang when a hand stopped him. “Let go of me, Ling Chang” Jun Chen almost yelled without turning around but the hand did not let go and Jun Chen turned around to force the hand to let go when he noticed that it was Hui Wen. “I am sorry my boy, but cannot let you go before you promise me you won’t let the rage inside you, control you” Jun Chen wanted to yell but a calmness filled his body faster and without any words Hui Wen released and Jun Chen was free once more. Ling Chang smiled to see that Hui Wen was alive but the happiness was short as in the next he closed his eyes and stopped breathing. Jun Chen looked at Ling Chang and at Hui Wen’s death body. “I promise I will stay calm no matter who or what I am fighting” Jun Chen said and for a second it seemed like that Hui Wen lips moved and smiling but when Jun Chen closed and opened his eyes the smile was gone and he knew that he was gone. Ling Chang could not hold the tears back any longer and even that she could feel the rage inside her like the other times that she needed it, she kept it inside and prevented her eyes from becoming red as blood but the powers inside her was stronger than before so she suddenly started shaking: Jun Chen noticed it quickly and knew he had to do something to calm her down but as he held out a hand, Ling Chang pulled her sword and instead of taking the hand she attacked and only a quick move from Jun Chen prevented him from losing it. “Ohh, the young lady is on fire” Gang Chen yelled from his throne and kicked the death body of Jiang Chen to make her even more raged, making Jun Chen trying to think fast. Gang Chen could see the kicking made Ling Chang loose more and more of her focus not being angry so he started kicking Jiang Chen even more while yelling to Jun Chen to keep him from thinking. “I would not stand near her, she seems like a volcano ready to explode at anytime now” he yelled loudly and mocking. Ling Chang attacked Jun Chen who only managed to block the attack by pure luck and the soldiers forming the circle around them started to worry for their lives even that they was still busy fighting against Gang Chen’s men. “Your girlfriend is not the sweet girl you expected” Gang Chen yelled expecting Jun Chen to loose his ideas even more but instead a smile appeared on Jun Chen face and yelled back to Gang Chen “Thanks” and while Gang Chen’s turned from the happy face to the confused face, Jun Chen blocked another attack from Ling Chang and with out a word to her, he kissed her on the lips. At first Ling Chang tried to escape the kiss but just as she was able to guide the sword against Jun Chen, she relaxed and returned his kissing. “Nooooooooo, you was supposed to kill each other, not become lovers” Gang Chen finally yelled as Jun Chen and Ling Chang stopped kissing. “Kill them, kill them all now” Gang Chen yelled and pointed at some bowmen, who started aiming at first before they stopped and asked “What about our own men?” And now it was Gang Chen’s face and body which was full of rage and he yelled as high he could “Do I look like one who cares, kill them all now” and arrows starts flying through the air, hitting both good and bad people. Ling Chang sat near Hui Wen’s death body with closed eyes as she was praying to the gods to make room for him up there and as she finished she started to wonder what would happen next as once more she was alone in the world, except for Jun Chen but that was different and not family. She knew that they had a fight to win first but still she was dreaming about days with peace between people. Suddenly she felt a hand on her shoulder as she is about to look up find out the owner she is pulled away from Hui Wen’s body. She starts twisting and turning to get free from the hand as it is not letting go. She opens her eyes and gets ready to scream but her voice dies when two arrows hit Hui Wen’s body, near the place she was just sitting and her eyes follow the hand up and sees Jun Chen trying to protect her from the arrows. “Get up” Jun Chen yells and helps her up standing as more arrows start flying through the air. Ling Chang and Jun Chen looked at each other as they knew they had to do something or the lives of Hui Wen and Jiang Chen has been wasted for nothing. Suddenly an arrow hits Lei and the scream of pain, makes Jun Chen decide to do the unthinkable. “Are you alright Lei?” Jun Chen asks and even in pain Lei manages to nod as the arrow has only hit his left leg. Jun Chen looks at Ling Chang and without any words she knows what he has planned and starts yelling at him “No, No, Not you too, please stop, Don’t do it” but he turns around, lets go of her hand and starts walking away from her while Lei manages to keep her from following him. “Please stop, I love you” Ling Chang yells loudly and for a moment Jun Chen stops and look back at her just to reply “Yes, I love you too but I have to do this or we will never have a chance together.” And then he turns back around as Ling Chang’s eyes get full of tears because she fears the worst. “Stop your men and fight me Gang Chen” Jun Chen yells loudly against Gang Chen who quickly makes his men stop firing. “Did someone hear a bird sing?” Gang Chen yells back while some men around him prepare new arrows and others start laughing. Jun Chen looks directly at him and yells again “I said stop your men and fight me Gang Chen or are you the bird?” Louder than before and a soldier continues laughing which makes Gang Chen return his rage and stands up from the throne instantly. "Do not push me or you will end up like this" and pulls forward his sword and penetrates the laughing soldiers, making the entire town silence except for the soldier drowning in his own blood. Jun Chen does not say anything and in the next Gang Chen starts cutting upwards, almost splitting the soldier into two instead of just pulling it out like a sane person. Ling Chang looks away as she fears something more bloody will happen and rightfully so is Gang Chen almost not done, with the first soldier before he penetrates the next one with his sword while he yells loudly "You got to teach them a lesson or you will never be the leader of anything" Jun Chen looks around on the men around and many of them are having fear in their eyes but before he can yell anything back Gang Chen spilt the man thought the guts so intestine and blood covers the ground. "This is your end, Jun Chen and after I am done with you, you sweet little girlfriend will be all alone in the world and I am sorry to be the one letting you know but the world is not as safe as your father told you as a child"

Jun Chen looks at Ling Chang before yelling back "Do you accept or not?" And Gang Chen just smiles while answering taunting "I would be honoured fighting the emperor's only son and the last one in the royal bloodline but be warned I cannot promise you what I will do to your girl if you lose" Jun Chen raises his sword and then enemy soldiers forms a road all the way to Gang Chen and the throne. Ling Chang helps up Lei and starts walking behind Jun Chen together with the remaining soldiers. They reach the throne which is moved and soon a circle appears for the two men to fight in. "Are you sure this is a good idea" Ling Chang ask Jun Chen who does not answer and without even looking at her he just yells to Gang Chen "I am ready when you are" Gang Chen swings his sword to clean it from the blood of the two men he already has killed and slowly the two men starts dancing around on the wooden floor. Suddenly a lightning crosses the sky and rain drops starts falling heavy, Ling Chang looks up and the sun which had been on the sky doing the entire battle was now gone behind big dark clouds, making it almost feel like night time. The two men keeps walking around and focusing on each like nothing else matters and as the thunder from the lightning above them starts rumbles the first attacks are happening but neither of the men unable to break thought so instead the men around the starts cheering. Ling Chang is too focused on the arrow in Lei leg to watch Jun Chen fight. "Does it hurt Lei?" She says as she starts tugging in the arrow and even without words his face tells everything. "I am sorry, but we have to get it out or you might die by the blood loose" Lei closes his eyes and replied dry "Yes I know" He opens his eyes again and points as a wooden stick not far from them. "Give me that and be ready with some bandages" Lei says like it was the most simple thing in the world. Ling Chang thinks for a moment as even she was the one with the idea about taking the arrow out, she is now have second thoughts. "Ling Chang, please, you have to... I know you are having second thoughts about me now but please I do not want to meet my wife just yet" Lei says and Ling Chang looks at him and nods. She jumps up and runs to the wooden stick just as Jun Chen attacks Gang Chen, who is too quick on the now wet wooden floor, but luckily Gang Chen does not manage to prepare his own attack before Jun Chen is ready again. Ling Chang reaches the wooden stick but as she is about to walk back against Lei, a man is blocking her way by pointing a sword directly at her. "Do you remember me?" The man says cold but the dark sky makes it impossible for Ling Chang to see the man's face, making her just reply even colder "No, and let me pass" The man starts laughing "I am sorry but I know you" and a lightning light revealed who he was. Ling Chang pretended she did not remember him and tried to force her way to Lei who was still laying on the ground waiting for the wood so they could start getting the arrow out but the sword came closer to skin. The man continued "My name does not matter but I was the one who lost the brother to your old fool and since he is laying death down there I want to fight you" the man said and Ling Chang knew that she was not getting past the man no matter what she did except for fighting him so she threw the wood to Lei and turned her focus 100% at the man and replied "Are you man enough to fight a girl or do you just kill me like a boy" The man face turned angry but he quickly calm before he pulled forward another sword and handed it over to Ling Chang who had not chance to refuse. Ling Chang grabbed it quickly and just in time, she took two steps back as in the next the man attacked with the other sword. "You are no man" Ling Chang yelled but the man just laughed and lunch another attack. This time Ling Chang blocked the attack and the sound of more swords sing, made a few men turn around and started cheering around them too.

In the meantime back at the fight between Jun Chen and Gang Chen, there was still no blood in sight but Gang Chen had noticed the fight between his man and Ling Chang and wondered if he could use it for something. "Your girlfriend is a fighter too" Gang Chen yelled to Jun Chen who turned his sight away from the fight just as gang Chen expected. "Yeah she is good" Jun Chen replied while watching her movements against the man without thinking that he was still in a fight. He felt a pain starting in his left shoulder and the pain reawaken him to his own fight. "You are a cheater" Jun Chen yelled as he forced Gang Chen's sword away who was laughing too much to keep pushing. "I did not do anything, it was all your own fault" Gang Chen finally said as they were watching each other again. Jun Chen was tried off his laughter so he attacked without thinking much of his new injury and the attack had such power that Gang Chen had to stop laughing and block the attack but still his own sword made him get a small cut on his right arm. "Well, well, well. Now we are both are bleeding" Gang Chen said and pushed Jun Chen with his free hand before attacking on his own but Jun Chen was more ready this time and they started to take turns in attacking and defending without any more blood. Suddenly Gang Chen yelled "Sword" and a sword flew through the air and Jun Chen managed just to step away from it but instead Gang Chen just caught it and was now having two swords making it harder for Jun Chen to defend himself but he was far from done anyway.

Laughter came from Gang Chen but Jun Chen did not seem impressed and yelled "If you are so strong and powerful why don't you show it" Jun Chen without revealing any fear for the second sword that Gang Chen had gotten. "Please take the bait" Jun Chen whispered and as he had only finished the line before Gang Chen had taken the bait and attack Jun Chen just as planned and in the next he kicked Gang Chen who only just managed to throw the second sword away before it would have cut himself doing landing and instead the sword landed near Lei, who took it and yelled "Maybe we can fight more fair now" before he started cheering even more his friends as he turned around and watched Ling Chang's fight. Ling Chang and the man had started dancing around each other just as Jun Chen and Gang Chen in the main fight and soon the men cheering had formed another circle, making it look like an eight instead. Ling Chang threw the bandages against Lei who was laying in the edge and a soldier quickly picked it up to start taking care of him so Ling Chang could focus on the fight instead. "Do you really think that some bandages would matter, when we are done fighting?" The man said laughing and lunched an attack which Ling Chang blocked easily and attacked back instantly while replying "I am not the girl you captured not long ago" Ling Chang yelled and the strike was faster and better than the man so he started bleeding on his shoulder but managed to stop the sword before it could hit his head. "Close call" the man said laughing and unprovoked by the attack before he continued "Better show you how a real man fights" and then he lunched an attack which such power that Ling Chang almost lost the sword but she managed to keep a hold on it and just as she felt the attack was losing strength the man attack again and this time in was the other side. The sword came closer to Ling Chang leg but again she managed to block it and prevent her blood to be spilled even it took much of her strength. But the tried attack did not bring Ling Chang any luck as it came with such force that even she managed to block the attack, it cut some of her beautiful black hair off. "Do you believe me now" The man yelled as he prepared for another attack but Ling Chang could feel the rage inside her started to grow and attacked without replying the man and the swords hit with such powers that the circle had to open for the man to dance away and they started to dance against the water and the main part of the harbour. Ling Chang attacked again and she managed to cut the man deeply over just above his knee, making his movements slowing down and his laughing was replaced by a screaming of pain. "You will pay for this" the man yelled but Ling Chang did not hear a single word as the blood had completed her rage and instead she attacked again. The man managed to block and attack on his own but his sword did not even get close to hit Ling Chang before she blocked and lunched another strike against him. The swords hit each other but instead of blocking Ling Chang sword went past it and only quick jump made the man survive the attack as it was going straight for his heart. Ling Chang is far from finished and attack again, giving the man no chance to defend or escape her attacks. "Please, please" the man says low while he does his best to defend himself from the attacks but the blood starts appearing more and more places on his body and he falls to the ground exhausted and almost giving up. Lei has not seen Ling Chang fight before but he can see the fear in the man eyes and yells to Ling Chang. "Relax, we need someone alive" but instead of answering she just turns around and looks at him with her blood red eyes which makes him instantly regret yelling to her. The short break gives the man a chance to get standing again and Lei yells to him "Give up and live" but instead of handing over his sword to Ling Chang he uses the chance to attack on her seemly defenceless stand but quicker than the lightning running across the sky is Ling Chang back at the fight and blocks his attack with such power that the sword flies into the sky and the now defenceless man screams of pain as Ling Chang forces her sword inside his chest like butter. "Arhhhhhhhhhhh" the man scream and Lei tries to get standing and stop Ling Chang from finishing the job but his injury makes him too slow. The man's sword lands in Ling Chang hand and without a word, she swings it and the man's scream dies out instantly and as his body falls to the ground Ling Chang looks at Lei for a moment too before she too falls to the ground. Lei rushes over and as thunder roars he tries to wake up Ling Chang but she is completely lost in this world and back at Jun Chen's fight with Gang Chen, the two men watches the two lifeless bodies wondering who of them won. "Seems like your girlfriend is just as much dead as my man” Gang Chen says and attack Jun Chen who is still watching and waiting for a sign of Ling Chang still being alive but the yelling of his men warns him soon enough and he managed to step out of the way. “Is she alive?” He yelled to Lei who is still holding her close while his fight is suddenly against two, himself and his rage that he promised Hui Wen not to use and Gang Chen who had been his enemy all along. Gang Chen sense his troubled mind and yells “Are you ready to join your girlfriend?” And then he attacks again but Jun Chen blocks it simply even that is mind is turning into mush by the rage and his attempts keep calm and in control.

Suddenly the time slows down as Gang Chen lunch another attack and just as Jun Chen blocks the attack it stops completely. He looks around and every sound is silence and every movement is frozen even the rain has stopped falling. He feels the only movement is his breath and his mind just managed to think “What is happening” before 2 ghosts appears in the rain and two known voices appears, one of his father and emperor Jiang Chen and the other of his master Hui Wen. “Clear your head and heart, young man” Hun Wen starts saying and Jiang Chen smiles and nods before replying “Yes, do not worry about us, we have done anything we needed to do in this world to prepare you” Jun Chen wants to answer them but the freeze is also controlling him except for his focus and his breathing. The two men laughs “We have heard enough of your words, to know what you question is without you need to ask and the answer you seek is yes, she lives and you won’t be alone in this world” and just as sudden the time stopped, it suddenly moves again and all he hears in his ear is “Clear your head and heart” before the yelling from the men around him and Gang Chen is back to its high volume. Jun Chen blocks the attack from Gang Chen who is speechless from the surprise and in the next Lei yells loudly “Yes, my lord, she lives but she is fast asleep” and the stone of fear is gone from Jun Chen and he prepare himself to attack Gang Chen. “Too bad, she is alive as she will beg me to make her join you when I am done with you but do not worry I will take good care other first” Gang Chen yells as he tries to get back into Jun Chen’s head but instead of rage Jun Chen feels the calm run over him and he closed his eyes while whispering “Ling Chang, hang in there, I am on my way” Gang Chen notice the closed eyes and yells “Are you giving up already... have your mind turned into rotten mosh” while the words left his mouth he came closer and closer to Jun Chen who had not moved or opened his eyes again. The soldiers around them yelled so loud that it was impossible for Jun Chen to know if he was being attack or not but just as the edge of the sword touched his skin, he moved quickly out of the way giving Gang Chen no chance to stop or to defend himself from Jun Chen attack who now opened his eyes and attack back, giving Gang Chen a big wound on his back, making him scream loudly of pain and the soldiers was now all silence. Gang Chen managed to get standing while he started yelling "If I do not complete this on my own, my brother will kill you and everybody here for what you did against me" and Jun Chen just smiled as he knew he had won. "Put your sword on the ground and I will let you live but do not test me and make the same mistake as your man, that Ling Chang was fighting" Jun Chen said calmly and the enemy soldiers around him started to put down their weapons while Gang Chen watched them before he nodded and started to put down his sword too as he preferred life even if it meant giving up. "My men and I..." he wanted to say more but his mouth started to fill his mouth and Jun Chen yelled loudly "Who did that?" While he looked around on the speechless men who did not know if they was going to return fighting or still giving up after the death of their leader. Jun Chen ran over to Gang Chen and even he was an enemy, he did not want more people to die but Gang Chan was already far gone. Jun Chen pulled the arrow from the man's back and yelled once more "Who did that?" And instead of a manly respond, a female voice replied "I did" and at first Jun Chen force his eyes against Ling Chang but when he noticed that she was still fast asleep, he looked around the men and then his eyes caught the eyes of Mei Chen, he had forgotten all about since the battle started. The rain stopped and Jun Chen got confused by the change of weather, making him yell once more "Do not let me ask again, who did this?" And an arrow flew through the air right beside him and hit the throne. "I just said I did, and in case you wonder why then the man, you just wanted to save form death killed my entire family and together with yours so I did not want him to waste anymore air in this world" Mei Chen yelled while tears started to run down her cheeks and mix with the water from the rain. Jun Chen looked around and no one dared to speak against the woman so he finally replied "Sorry, did not know he killed your family too" and as he starts walking over to her, men around them starts cheering, making Jun Chen stop once more and yelled "There is no time for cheering as we have to burry our death and beside one more enemy is still alive" and the men turned into silence again while he reached Mei Chen who still stood crying. "I am sorry for your lose" Jun Chen said as he held around her and the tears disappeared slowly. "Do not be, just let me help you so we can finish what they started" Mei Chen said low and Jun Chen is about to answer something when Ling Chang voice is suddenly heard. "We made it, we won" and Jun Chen only manages to turn around from the crying Mei Chen when Ling Chang throws herself around him. "I thought I lost you" Ling Chang says and Jun Chen tries to smile as he replies "I thought the same about you, but now we have to defeat the last evil" Ling Chang looks at him with serious eyes before replying "Yes, and we will, my love"
